Thanks for your responses Claudio.

We have a couple of quick follow up questions on this before we give approval.

- On our first question, given that the IDB acknowledges that there is a risk that there are no successful wells drilled, is it possible to increase the size of the facility to ensure that the probability of a successful well is increased?
- Could you elaborate a bit more on how Bandolex was selected as this wasn't really covered in your initial response?

Thanks,

Lawrence
